

Hardenberg Consulting is a leading international consultancy specializing in the headhunting of experts and executives in the field of veterinary medicine and animal health.

Our client is one of the top ten small animal clinics in Germany. Complex clinical cases are treated at the highest possible level of veterinary medicine. The new clinic building equipped with state-of-the-art technology started operating in 2017.

Thanks to the remarkable success of the team, a significant new structural expansion will be added to the existing facilities. The clinic team consists of around 40 veterinarians - including diplomates - with special expertise in various disciplines. The referrals appreciate the active cooperation, the quality of veterinary care and the professional handling of the owners.

Due to those planned expansions of the veterinary team as well as the entire clinic, we are hiring a veterinarian for a permanent position as

Resident / Diplomate of veterinary surgery ECVS / ACVS (m/f/d)

Your role:

- As a main player in the surgeons team with six veterinary colleagues, you are responsible for the treatment of all kind of referred patients, or give a second opinion on patients with a long history
- You are equipped with empathy for the pet owners and appear as a competent partner regarding medical possibilities and limits
- You team up with all veterinarians in the clinic based on the individual case and share your knowledge as well as supervise especially your younger colleagues
- You coordinate the in-house measures according to the set clinic standards
- Additionally, you make use of all available options of modern diagnostics through personal contact with external partners and universities
- You take part in a rotation system of the emergency service along with your colleagues
- You make an active contribution to the education of assistant veterinarians as they benefit from your experience
- You keep in touch with the all referring veterinarians since fast and neat retransfers are especially important to you
- Your expert status will allow you to promote the acquisition of additional referring practices and be available to those colleagues through in-house education and expert training
- The clinic is located in the north-west of Germany
- You report directly to the director of the clinic

The requirements:

- As a (future) boarded veterinarian, you have acquired the status of a Diplomate ECVS / ACVS or will be achieving it soon
- You come with the experience of a diverse repertoire of surgery cases (orthopedic, soft tissue, neuro) and equipped with a wide network of experts
- You actively pursue a continuous personal and skills development
- Participation in well planned emergency service rotation system
- You enjoy working with other clinical specialists and have a holistic approach to a patient
- You are able to and skilled at communicating in German or you are motivated to learn German short term respectively

What we offer to residents / diplomates ECVS / ACVS:

Take the opportunity to develop and prosper in a top modern veterinary clinic, which is one of the most successful institutions in German-speaking countries due to its professional capabilities and the special customer proximity.

Profit from the team of veterinary specialists and diplomates as well as the latest medical devices, well-trained veterinary nurses, the network, the ROWA and the blood bank to treat particularly complicated cases. Your weekly work hours will be spread over four days (other individual time models are possible). Further training and education for you will be supported as matter of course. Your work as a surgeon will benefit from exceedingly well-organized procedures as well as the owner's willingness to invest and the exceptionally relaxed working atmosphere among all employees.

If your interest is piqued, please do not hesitate to contact Dr. med. vet. Felix von Hardenberg. He and his team are happy to hear from you and can be called under +49 8178 9986410. Please send your application to the following e-mail address: application@hardenberg-consulting.com quoting the reference number 1977911.

What we offer to all other residents / diplomates:

If you are a resident / diplomate at one of the following colleges and would like to work in a top small animal clinic you are very welcome to apply with us on your own initiative: ECVIM, ECVA, ECVD, ECVI, ECVN, ECVO, ECVSMR, EVDC, ECTVS or ACVIM, ACVA, ACVD, ACVDI, ACVN, ACVO, ACVSMR, AVDC, ACTVS respectively.

www.hardenberg-consulting.com

www.vetjobs24.com